1, Explain behaviour of hub device

A network hub is a basic networking device. A hub operates at layer 1 - Physical layer. It is only boardcast

2, Explain behaviour of switch device

A network switch is a networking device. its a layer 2 - Data link layer Forward ethernet Frames to the Coorect destination Port its a boardcast and unicast

3, Explain behaviour of router device

A router is a networking device that Connects different ip networks and Forwards packets between them using IP address. A router typically operats at layer 3 Network layer its. only unicast search Same Segment or ip than drop.

Scanned with TapScanner